P R E F A C E

The first edition of this work was published in 1935 by Thorsten Sellin and J. P. Shalloo under the title of A Bibliographical Manual for the Student of Criminology. A revision was prepared in 1959 by the undersigned and published in the Bulletin of the Société internationale de criminologie (Paris) 1960, 81-122 pp. The present revision includes some items in the section on topical bibliographies that were found in the original publication but omitted from the first revision, because they appeared prior to 1935, and items that have been published since that revision was compiled.

This is not a criminological bibliography. It is a tool designed to be a time-saving device for students and researchers, who are working on criminological problems and who need assistance in locating published source data in the form of articles, books or reports issued in the United States.

The compilers are grateful to Dr. J. C. Scanlon of the National Research and Information Center of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency for wishing to bring this bibliographical tool to the attention of a wide circle of potential users.

The first edition of this work was published in 1895 by Thomas Curtis and J. F. Smith under the title of A Bibliographical History of the History of Pennsylvania. A revision was prepared in 1907 by the same authors and published in the Library of the Historical Association at Philadelphia (Harris) 1907, 81-115 pp. The present revision includes some items in the section on Native Bibliography that were found in the original publication but omitted from the first revision; however they appeared prior to 1907, and items that have been published since that revision was completed.

This is not a chronological bibliography. It is a list designed to be a time-saving device for students and researchers, and the headings on chronological divisions and other general headings in listing published works are in the form of sections, under no separate heading in the Index.

The compiler are indebted to Dr. J. H. Jordan of the National Bureau of Historical Research at the National Council on Crime and Delinquency for placing in their hands this bibliography and to the attention of a wide circle of interested persons.

Mudge and contains not only basic reference works in almost all major fields of knowledge but also a series of supplementary volumes in specialized fields. The seventh edition contains over 5,500 entries arranged according to the Dewey system of classification, by and large. The criminologist would be specially interested in the sections on Social Science, Law, Periodicals and Newspapers, Government Documents, Dissertations, and Psychology. Supplements covering 1950-1952, 1953-1955, and 1956-1958 have been issued so far.

III. HOW TO FIND CRIMINOLOGICAL MATERIAL IN PERIODICALS

Whether he wishes to keep abreast of what is being published pertaining to a criminological subject or desires to locate pertinent writings on that subject published in past years, the researcher needs a number of aids. Much of the material he wants may be found in periodical publications, such as, journals or the proceedings of various societies or associations. In this particular section of our Manual we shall deal with journals and newspapers--which also have research value--and leave the matter of "proceedings" to a later section which deals with serials.

Current bibliographies of criminology, such as those to be found in the Excerpta Criminologica (65) International Bibliography on Crime and Delinquency (164) and in the International Review of Criminal Policy (503) are indispensable, but no complete classified listing of all criminological articles published in the United States exists and therefore the tools listed below will prove themselves useful. They have been grouped into several classes. First, there are the publications which list, under topical headings, references to the titles of articles which are found in (a) periodicals of a general character or in (b) selected periodicals from a large variety of specialties. Second, there are the publications which similarly list articles from (c) periodicals of a certain class or (d) articles of a certain class in all kinds of periodicals. Third, there are publications, which consist of (e) abstracts, i.e., brief summaries of articles from periodicals, and these publications are usually rather specialized. Finally, there are (f) indexes of various types that, like an index to a book, analyze the contents of articles in a series of volumes of a given journal, for instance.

A. General Indexes

- (19) The Annual Magazine Subject Index. (1907-1949, Boston).
Indexed American and British journals, chiefly theological and historical, few of which were indexed elsewhere. State historical society journals were covered. Many periodicals were indexed from their first issue, as far back as 1876. During the last years some 125 journals were indexed.
- (20) The Bibliographic Index. (1937-New York).
Quarterly cumulative international index of bibliographies. Issued, so far, in four volumes, each covering a five-year period. Volume I, 1937-42, lists over 50,000 bibliographies found in books, and over a thousand periodicals in countries all over the world. Volume IV, 1951-55, has increased the periodical coverage to 1500. Volume V has similar range of coverage (1500 periodicals). Items classified topically. Of value to criminologists are the headings: alcoholism and crime, arson, capital punishment, crime and criminals, detectives, drugs, forgery, homicide, insane, juvenile delinquency, murder, parole, police, prison, probation, and punishment. Topical headings vary somewhat from volume to volume.
- (21) Bibliographie der fremdsprachigen Zeitschriftenliteratur. (1911-19, 1925-, Leipzig).
About 4000 sources, including American, were listed in the most recent of this annual publication, including original essays, papers, collective reports, and bibliographic summaries. Titles listed under main topics, such as "Kriminalität" and "Todesstrafe".
- (22) Internationale Bibliographie des Buch und Bibliothekswesens mit besonderer Berücksichtigung der Bibliographie. (1904-1912, 1922-1940- Leipzig).
From 1904-1912, and 1922-1926 this was known as Bibliographie des Bibliotheks - und Buchwesens and for these years it appeared as an annual supplement to Zentralblatt für Bibliothekswesen.
Each annual volume was divided into several sections. Bibliographic section listed new bibliographies in four major categories: general and national bibliographies, subject bibliographies, regional and local bibliographies, and individual bibliographies.
- (23) International Index to Periodicals. (1907-, New York).
Now a quarterly guide to periodical literature in the social sciences and the humanities. Cumulative volumes every three years. About 175 journals, mostly American, are covered. More scholarly than Readers' Guide.

- (25) Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature. (1900--., New York).

- (30) United Nations Library, Monthly List of Selected Articles. (1937-Geneva).
The first 16 volumes (1937-1944) were produced by the League of Nations Library. The United Nations continued this numeration in 1945. Some 2400 periodicals are regularly indexed under "Social, Humanitarian and Educational Questions" relevant headings include Prevention of Crime and Treatment of Offenders, Prostitution, Legal Questions and National Legislation.

B. Special Indexes

- (32) Annual Legal Bibliography. (1961-, Cambridge).
A selected list of books and articles received by the Harvard Law School Library. Volume I covered a period of July 1960 through June 1961 and contained some 8,000 items.
- (33) Together with its monthly supplement, Current Legal Bibliography, material is classified under 7 general sections with: A. Common Law Jurisdiction and B. Civil Law and Other Jurisdiction containing most relevant material. The Classified List of Subjects should be consulted to insure all finding of all material.
- (34) Applied Science and Technology Index. (1913-, New York).
Until January, 1958, known as the Industrial Arts Index. Monthly publication (with yearly cumulations) which examines some 250 journals, many of which are not indexed elsewhere. Conventional topical headings.

- (41) The Education Index. (1929-, New York).
Originally triennial, it became with volume IX a biennial, cumulative index issued monthly covering 150 American journals in the field of education, with some supplementary selective listing of books and pamphlets. The new series was formerly Current List of Medical Literature (40). Standard bibliographical index to periodicals and new books; consists of a classified list with subject index. The period 1900-1902 was covered by (42A) Bibliographia Medica (Paris). It was replaced from 1926 to 1959 by Quarterly Cumulative Index Medicus (53).
- (43) The Index of Psychoanalytic Writings. 5 volumes, (New York, 1956-1960)
A. Grinstein, compiler.
Four volumes list items by author. Volume V classifies material by subject. Very extensive listings under: arson, crime, criminals, criminology, murder, parole, penology, rape, delinquent, delinquency. Material covers the period 1900-1952, therefore the index supplements and greatly extends the following:
- (44) Index Psychoanalyticus, 1893-1926, J. Rickman, (ed.).

(45) Index to Labor Articles. (1926-1953).

A publication of the Rand School of Social Science, it contained some references of criminological interest.

(46) Index to Legal Periodicals. (1908-, New York).

Published in conjunction with the Law Library Journal for the American Association of Law Libraries, each volume examines over 160 legal periodicals, almost 50 bar association reports, and a number of judicial council reports. This monthly publication, with one year and three year cumulations, has, since 1940, a book review index, in addition to the annual author-subject index.

(47) Index to Legal Periodical Literature. American, English, Canadian, British. Vols. I-II by L. A. Jones; Vols., III-VI by F. S. Chipman. (1888-1939-Boston, Indianapolis, and Los Angeles).

Each volume covered a particular period of time and the series as a totality extends from 1770 to 1937. Great variance in the number of periodicals indexed in each volume. Volume I reviewed 158 journals, whereas the third analyzed only 60.

(48) An Interim Supplement to the Index to Legal Periodicals. (1950-, New York).

Articles, long notes, etc., are listed in this comprehensive review of Anglo-American legal periodicals and a selected number of foreign language law journals. (Unofficial supplement to Index to Legal Periodicals, compiled by staff of New York University and Columbia University Law Schools.)

(49) International Bibliography of Sociology. (1952-, Lausanne). An annual UNESCO compilation which examines over 1200 periodicals from all over the world and arranges the material under six major headings. In volume IX there were 160 titles under "Social Problems and Social Policy" relating to sexual abnormality, drug addiction and alcoholism, crime and delinquency, juvenile delinquency, and punishment and penal institutions. The first (1951) U.S. bibliography of sociology was contained in the first issue of Current Sociology (1951-, Paris); one number of each subsequent volume is entitled International Bibliography of Sociology.

(50) The Psychological Index. (1894-1935, Princeton).

International in scope; covered books as well as articles from 350 periodicals. Last annual volumes each listed about 5000 titles. (See 68 and 69).

(51) Public Affairs Information Service, Bulletin. (1915-, New York). Weekly listing of current books, pamphlets, articles in periodicals, and governmental documents, with cumulative bulletins five times a year and an annual cumulative volume. Over 1000 English-language periodicals examined. Key words similar to those used in Readers' Guide. For each book the author, title, publication date, pages, price, publisher, and usually, brief description of contents. A "Key to Periodical References" listing the names, addresses and prices of the reviewed journals, and a "Directory of Publishers and Organizations" is to be found in each volume.

- (52) Quarterly Cumulative Index to Current Medical Literature (1916-1926, Chicago).
 Author and subject index to three hundred medical periodicals and society transactions; considerable foreign material. Replaced by Quarterly Cumulative Index Medicus (53).
- (53) Quarterly Cumulative Index Medicus. (1927-, Chicago).
 "A practically complete index to the journal literature," covering about 1200 periodicals. It has replaced Index Medicus (42) and Quarterly Cumulative Index to Current Medical Literature (52).
- (54) Writings in American History. (1903-, Washington).
 Annual compilation based on over 500 serials in the field of American history, by the American Historical Society. Sub-heading "Criminals and Outlaws" of particular interest. An Index to Writings in American History, 1902-1940, was published in Washington in 1956.

C. Newspaper Indexes

Newspapers can be of great value for the researcher. They contain reports on day to day occurrences, special articles or stories, obituaries, etc., but unless the date and locale of an event about which information is sought are known, newspapers can hardly be profitably utilized, barring the existence of an index. Good indexes to particular newspapers are scarce, but a few exist, such as those to the Virginia Gazette, for 1736-1780; the Brooklyn Daily Eagle, for 1891-1902; the United States Daily, for 1926-1933; and the Norfolk Journal and Guide, 1936-Norfolk, Virginia. The three most useful indexes are the following:

- (55) The New York Times Index. (1913-, New York).
 Semi-monthly publication with cumulative annual compilations that summarize and classify news alphabetically and chronologically under subject and personal and organizational names. Cross-references common. Index covering 1851-1858, 1860, and 1863-1905 available on film.
- (56) New York Tribune, New York. Daily Tribune Index. (1876-1907).
 Not nearly so extensive as the New York Times Index but historically important.
- (57) Street's Pandex of the News and Cumulative Index to Current History. (1903-4; 1908-1917; Chicago.)
 An index-digest of news based on a search of a large number of dailies. Valuable, in that events may be dated and items concerning them easily located in important newspapers. Useful for the period 1908-12, when no other news index existed.

In addition to specific newspaper indexes, it may become important for the researcher to determine precisely what newspapers are in existence.

- (58) N. W. Ayer and Son's Directory of Newspapers and Periodicals. (1880-, Philadelphia).
 An annual directory considered as the standard American list. Newspapers are listed by state and cities within a state. School papers and newspapers of smaller colleges are omitted.

Also of some value is:

- (59) Brigham, C. S., History and Bibliography of American Newspapers, 1690-1820. 2 Vols., (Worcester, Massachusetts, 1947), which in addition to listing American newspapers for the period, cites the specific holdings of a number of libraries.

To determine where relevant newspapers may be obtained the following would be of value:

- (60) Gregory, W., American Newspapers, 1821-1936; a union list of files available in the United States and Canada. (New York, 1937).
Lists the holdings of 5700 depositories.
- (61) Fessler, A. L., and Riccardi, S. J., Current Newspapers: United States and Foreign. (New York, 1957).
Union list of papers available in New York metropolitan area libraries.
- (62) V. S. Library of Congress, Newspapers on Microfilm. 4th ed. 323 pp. 1961. (Compiler) G. A. Schwegmann.
Some 13,000 entries including entries for 2,580 foreign and 10,420 domestic items. By state and county, and then by city.

D. Content of Articles and Dissertations

Frequently it is possible to secure not only title references but also summarizations of entire articles, in the form of abstracts, or topical descriptions of the contents of articles, in the form of analytical indexes.

- (63) Child Development Abstracts and Bibliography. (1927-, Washington).
Three times a year, with two volumes in each issue. A publication of the Society for Research in Child Development (formerly National Research Council). First volume entitled Child Development Abstracts. Articles listed alphabetically by author under eight major headings. The two most important for the purposes of this bibliography would be "Psychiatry and Mental Hygiene" (with a sub-section "Crime and Delinquency") and "Sociology and Economics." No cumulative volume but contains a subject index covering several issues.
- (64) Dissertation Abstracts. (1938-, Ann Arbor).
Until 1951 entitled: Microfilm Abstracts: a collection of abstracts of doctoral dissertations and monographs which are available in complete form on microfilm. In 1952, it became a monthly. Titles found under subject headings such as "Sociology", "Psychology", and "Social Psychology". Author index in annual volume.
- (65) Excerpta Criminologica. (1961-, Amsterdam) Bi-monthly.
Very valuable abstracting service in the field. Deals with items published in a wide range of magazines. Items classified by subject with a cumulative index number issued at the end of each volume. Volume I contained 1,655 items. Volume II, 1,871 items. Another valuable service is that if a copy of the original item is unobtainable, the editor will send photocopies and translations at cost price.

- (66) Legal Periodical Digest. (1928-, New York).
A monthly digest of selected leading articles and case comments published in some 100 current legal periodicals. Items topically arranged; "Criminal Law" is the most pertinent heading.
- (67) Psychological Abstracts (1927-, Lancaster, Pa.)
A bi-monthly publication of the American Psychological Association. Basic materials examined are frequently in foreign language journals and a total of over 500 journals are "regularly searched". Items found under the heading "Behavior Deviations", with a sub-heading "Crime and Delinquency". Author and title index.
- (68) Psychological Index. Abstract References... 2 Vols., (1940-41, Columbus, Ohio).
The years 1894-1918 are covered in Volume I, and 1919-1928 in the second volume in this backward extension of Psychological Abstracts, (67) which necessitates, however, the conjunctive use of the Psychological Index (See No. 50). There are nearly 50,000 titles in the two volumes. Extremely valuable also is:
- (69) Author Index to Psychological Index 1894 to 1935 and Psychology Abstracts 1927 to 1958. 5 Vols. (Boston, 1960).
Compiled by Columbia University Library. Consists of photocopy of actual entries posted on card and filed alphabetically by the author's last name.
- (70) Social Science Abstracts. (March, 1929-January, 1934, New York).
Monthly contained abstracts of all the social sciences. The four-year author and subject index is indispensable for the location of criminological material. Topical headings are somewhat unusual.
- (71) Sociological Abstracts. (November 1952-, New York).
"A valuable medium for bibliographing, systematizing and diffusing work published in the field of sociology". "Criminology" found under the larger topic "Social Disorganization". Over 110 journals are covered, some completely, some in part. Coverage of criminological articles has been weak.

Almost all journals offer an index to each volume, and it is a fairly common practice to publish a cumulative index for several volumes. Unfortunately, most indexes of this sort simply list authors and titles. On occasion an analytical index is to be found which means that the content of the articles will be classified under various pertinent topical headings.

Cumulative analytical indexes that cover whole series of volumes of a particular journal are specially useful. A large number of legal journals possess them, and so do journals that constantly or occasionally publish criminological material, such as criminological, sociological, psychological, psychiatric and political science periodicals. The most important of these indexes will be referred to in a later section in connection with the listing of the titles of such journals.

E. Location of Journals

Once a title reference to an article has been secured, the next problem is to find the journal volume in which the article is published. The nearest library may or may not have it. In recent years, however, inter-library loan services have been highly developed and the researcher is therefore able to borrow, through a library, practically any book or periodical if it is found in some other American library. So far as periodicals are concerned, their availability can be determined through the following sources:

- (72) The Union List of Serials in Libraries of the United States and Canada. 3065 pp., 2nd ed., (New York, 1943). First Supplement, January, 1941 through December, 1943, 1123 pp. (New York, 1945). Second Supplement, January, 1944 through December, 1949, 1365 pp., (New York, 1953). Still, "... the most important and comprehensive union list", containing a catalog description of between 115,000 and 120,000 titles received by over 600 libraries and their exact holdings. Supplements include new titles, or series previously included if they changed titles, ceased publication, or have been revived after a period of suspension. In a special section indications are given of each library's policy on lending serial publications. Many libraries will only send photographic or microfilm reproductions. Supplemented by Serial Titles Newly Received 1951-1952, and New Serial Titles.
- (73) Serial Titles Newly Received, 1951-1952. (1951-1952, Washington). Monthly publication, cumulated annually, and published by the library of Congress, Card Division. Designed to replace supplements to Union List of Serials. Replaced by New Serial Titles.
- (74) New Serial Titles; a union list of serials commencing publication after December 31, 1949, (1953-, Washington). Monthly, with annual cumulations. Quinquennial cumulative volumes planned. Decennial cumulative index exists for 1950-1960. Functions as continuing supplement to Union List of Serials (72) and Serial Titles Newly Received (73).
- (75) New Serial Titles: Classed Subject Arrangements. (1955-Washington) A monthly listing of titles under Dewey Decimal Classification.
- (76) Ulrich's Periodicals Directory. 10th ed., 667 pp. (New York, 1963). Published since 1932. This volume contains 19,776 selective titles grouped by subject. Gives title, date of first publication, frequency, price, publisher, annual index, and cumulative indices. Supplements Union List of Serials in that it arranges publications by subject, however. Does not list library holdings.

Extensive as is the Union List, it cannot cover all libraries in a region. In some of those regions or in large cities much more complete inventories of library holdings may be found. The first edition of the Union List, pp. 581-87, gives a list of such local references tools, as does the first supplement to the first edition, pp. 657-60. Examples of some union lists are:

- (77) (California) Union List of Serials in Libraries in Southern California. Compiled by the Southern District of the California Library Association. California Library Association, Southern District, Publication No. 3, 504 pp. (Los Angeles: Public Library of the City of Los Angeles... under the auspices of the Work Progress Administration, 1939). Covers serials published irregularly or less frequently than four times a year received by 75 libraries.

- (78) (California) Union List of Periodicals in Libraries in Southern California.

- (87) (Philadelphia) Classified List of 4800 Serials currently received in the Libraries of the University of Pennsylvania and of Bryn Mawr, Haverford and Swarthmore Colleges. 411 pp. (Philadelphia, 1936).
Unlike most union lists, items are classified by subject with "Criminology" being subsumed under "Sociology".

IV. BOOKS, PAMPHLETS AND REPORTS

To determine what books relating to some phase of criminology have been published in America, various reference works may be consulted. The first eight sources are listed chronologically by historical period covered.

A. GENERAL

- (88) Evans, C., American Bibliography; a chronological dictionary of all books, pamphlets and periodical publications printed in the United States of America from the genesis of printing in 1639 down to and including the year 1820. 13 vols., Vols. 1-12 (Chicago, 1903-1934); Vol. 13 (Worcester, Mass., 1955).
"The most important general list of early American publications."
The title is somewhat misleading because Volume 13 carries the work only through 1800. The titles are listed chronologically by date of publication, with an author, subject, and printer index.
- (89) Shaw, R. R., and Shoemaker, R. H., American Bibliography: A Preliminary Checklist. 5 Vols. (1958-, New York)
Five volumes thus far in this preliminary checklist as a first step to fill an American national bibliography for 1800 to 1820. One volume for each year is planned.
- (90) Roorbach, O. A., Bibliotheca Americana, 1820-1861. (New York, 1852-1861).
First volumes covered 1820-1851; Supplement 1852-1855; Addenda 1855-1858; Volume IV 1858-1861.
Catalog of American publications issued within the specified 35 year period, listed by author and title.
- (91) Kelly, J., American Catalogue of Books Published in the United States from January 1861 to January 1871. 2 Vols., (New York, 1866-1871).
Deceptive title in that there is limited coverage for 1861-1865.
- (92) American Catalog of Books, 1876-1910. 9 Vols., (New York, 1876-1910).
Considered the standard American list with items being indexed by author, title and subject.
- (93) United States Catalog: Books in Print, January 1, 1928. 4th ed., 3164 pp. (New York, 1928).
"A comprehensive record of American publications from 1898 on, (the first edition of U. S. Catalog) that is indispensable for reference work in the field." Indexed by author and subject.
- (94) Cumulative Book Index. A world list of books in the English language. (1898 -, New York).
Presently a monthly publication (except July, August and December) with cumulative volumes semi-annually, annually, and recently, quadrennially. Books listed by subject and author in manner similar to International Index. No governmental documents, paper-bound books, or pamphlets listed. Since 1928 a continuing supplement to the U. S. Catalog.

- (95) Sabin, J. Dictionary of Books Relating to America from its Discovery to the Present Time. 29 Vols., (New York, 1868-1892, 1928-1936).
A tremendous work with well over 100,000 numbered items, listed alphabetically by author only and hence quite limited for research as no subject or title index is available. The work was continued and completed by W. Eames and R. W. G. Vail.
- (96) Doctoral Dissertations Accepted by American Universities (1933/34-1955, New York).
Annual publication with general subject classifications. Within larger groupings, items are listed by universities. Replaced by Index to American Doctoral Dissertations (97).
- (97) Index to American Doctoral Dissertations. (1951 -, Ann Arbor). An annual listing of all dissertations accepted in American universities. The 1960 Volume listed 9,927 dissertations by subject and then by university. Superseded Doctoral Dissertations accepted by American universities (96).
- (98) United States Library of Congress, Catalog Division, List of American Doctoral Dissertations printed in ... (1912-1938).
An annual publication which ceased publication with the 1938 issue, with titles arranged alphabetically by author. Each issue contained subject index.
- (99) The Union List of Microfilms. 2d ed. (Ann Arbor, Mich., 1951).
Lists some 25,000 titles supplied by 197 institutions. The Supplement 1949-52, lists over 14,000 new acquisitions in 125 libraries. Items arranged alphabetically by author; if no author given, by title. No subject index.

B. CURRENT PAMPHLETS

While the Cumulative Book Index within its aforementioned limitations is the most complete reference for currently published books, one of the best current lists of pamphlets is:

- (100) The Vertical File Service Catalog. (1932-, New York).
Monthly (except August) publication (with annual cumulations) dealing with selected pamphlet material listed under conventional subject entries. Over 3,400 pamphlets are listed in annual cumulation with short descriptive notes on each.

C. CONTENT ANALYSIS

It is not always possible, of course, to determine from the title of a book the nature of its content. The abstract journals frequently cover books. Book reviews in many professional journals may also be examined for content matter. Other sources include:

- (101) Book Review Digest. (1905-, New York).
Monthly digest of reviews from about 85 journals, large in social science or popular literature fields. Items listed alphabetically by author. Subject and title index.

- (102) Index to Book Reviews in the Humanities. (1960-, New York).

A quarterly examining 676 journals, a number of which are in the social sciences. The items are listed alphabetically by name of author of book being reviewed.

- (103) Mental Health Book Review Index. (1956-.) Semi-annual.

The first six numbers were published as a supplement to Psychological Newsletter. More recent issues are not such supplements. An unpublished cumulative file of references to signed book reviews in 170 journals. Lists by author of book reviewed and gives information on the periodical in the field that reviewed the specific book, date of publication, and several reviews of the book.

D. ANALYTICAL INDEXES

A very valuable index to chapters, essays in composite books, addresses, and miscellaneous works is:

- (104) Essay and General Literature Index (1948-, New York).

So far volumes have been published, covering 1900-33, 1934-40, 1941-47, 1948-1954, and 1955-59, and yearly volumes thereafter. These volumes analyze and index content of about 100,000 essays and articles in over 7,000 volumes of collections of essays and miscellaneous works. The series is kept current by semi-annual supplements, with annual, triennial and septennial cumulations. Preceded by:

- (105) The "A.L.A." Index. 2d ed. (Boston, 1931).

- (106) Index to State Bar Association Reports and Proceedings. Includes American Bar Association, Association of the Bar of New York City, Canadian Bar Association, New York County Lawyers Association. D. A. Dooley, ed. 690 pp. American Association of Law Libraries (New York, 1942).

- (107) Moylan, H. S., "An Index to State Judicial Council Reports", National Conference of Judicial Councils, Handbook, Vol. 2, pp. 48-106, (1940).

E. LOCATION OF BOOKS.

The first edition of this Manual devoted considerable attention to a number of catalogues of several American libraries in Boston, Baltimore, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, et al. Since the coming of the various Library of Congress catalogues, however, the publication of the holdings of individual libraries has all but ceased. It cannot be held that this trend has been beneficial for research for, despite the comprehensiveness of the holdings and acquisitions of the Library of Congress, it does not, by any means, contain all books pertinent to the field of criminology.

One still useful library catalogue is:

- (108) United States Army Medical Library, Index-Catalogue of the Library of the Surgeon-General's Office, United States Army, (Army Medical Library) Authors and Subjects. (1880-1961, Washington).

First Series, 1880-1895 (16 vols.); Second Series, 1896-1915 (21 vols.); Third Series, 1918-1932 (16 vols.); the Fourth Series extended from "A" to "Mn" when it was discontinued with the eleventh volume in 1955. Fifth, and last series consists of 3 vols. dealing with material of 1950 and earlier. Replaced by Current List of Medical Literature (40).

- (109) National Library of Medicine. (1949-Washington).

For the first two years known as the United States Army Medical Library, Author Catalog. From 1951 to 1955, called United States Army Medical Library Catalog. The current publication is both an author and a subject catalog and presents the more recent acquisitions of the library.

Despite these few exceptions, the researcher must, by and large, content himself at the present time with attempting to determine the availability of particular volumes through the utilization of the following Library of Congress publications listed chronologically.

- (110) United States, Library of Congress, A Catalog of Books Represented by Library of Congress Printed Cards Issued to July 31, 1942. 167 vols., (Ann Arbor, 1942-1946).

This invaluable work by means of off-set printing of photo-copies of cards, eighteen to the page, lists the tremendous holdings of the largest library in the world as of July, 1942. Cards are listed alphabetically by author with some 180,000 cross-references.

- (111) United States, Library of Congress, A Catalog of Books Represented by Library of Congress Printed Cards, Supplement: Cards Issued August 1, 1942 - December 31, 1947. 42 vols., (Ann Arbor, 1948).

- (112) United States, Library of Congress, Author Catalog: A Cumulative List of works represented by Library of Congress printed cards, 1948-1952. 24 vols., (Ann Arbor, 1953).

Replaced Catalog of Printed Cards and its Supplement, and was complemented by Subject Catalog, for several years.

- (113) United States, Library of Congress, Catalog: Books: Subjects, 20 vols., 1950-1954, Washington).

A listing by subject of library acquisitions for the above period. (Original title for 1950-1952 was: United States, Library of Congress, Subject Catalog).

- (114) United States, Library of Congress, Catalog, Books: Authors (1953-1956, Washington).

- (115) United States, Library of Congress, Catalog: Books: Subjects (1955-, Washington).

Quarterly, with annual cumulations.

- (116) The National Union Catalog. (1956-, Washington).

In January, 1956, the Catalog, Books: Author was expanded to include not only Library of Congress acquisitions but those of other North American Libraries as well. Monthly (for 9 months) and, starting with 1957, cumulative quarterly publication.

- (117) The U. S. Library of Congress, Catalog, The National Union Catalog of Manuscript Collection, 1959-1961. (Ann Arbor; 1962)

List of 7,300 manuscript collection received by the Library of Congress for these 3 years. Topical headings of interest include Crime and Criminals, Corruption, Loteries, Privaltering, Rehabilitation and Prisons.

V. PUBLIC DOCUMENTS

The various and sundry publications of the federal, state, and municipal governments frequently contain valuable, if elusive, sources of data for the student of criminology.

A. INTERNATIONAL

- (118) United Nations. United Nations Documents Index. (1950, New York). Monthly.

Lists and indexes all documents and publications of the U. N. and its specialized agencies, e.g., I.L.O., U.N.E.S.C.O., W.H.O. Periodicals are listed annually in the February issue; selected periodical articles are listed and indexed each month. The annual index is a combined author and subject index. Major headings are Crime, Criminals, Capital Punishment, Extradition, Juvenile Delinquency, Offender, Prevention.

- (119) Commission on Narcotic Drugs, Economic and Social Council, United Nations. National Laws and Regulations Relating to the Control of Narcotic Drugs, Cumulative Index, 1947-1960. 95 pp.

United Nations publication E/NL1960/Index 1960.

Part I is an alphabetical listing by country;

Part II is an alphabetical list of substances dealt with in national legislation.

Part III is a general subject index.

B. FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

Reference sources which deal with a wide range of governmental publications include:

1) General Works

- (120) Boyd, A. M., and Rips, R. E., United States Government Publications. 3rd ed., 627 pp. (New York, 1950).

Probably the most valuable book in this area, it describes the publications of all agencies whether defunct or still in existence. Some relevant chapter headings are: Catalogs and Indexes; Congressional Publications; Laws and Statutes; Federal Court; Department of Justice, under which may be found the history, organization, duties, and publications of the Department itself as well as the history and publications of its subsidiary agencies. Alphabetical index by name of bureau, individual, bulletin, and, infrequently, subject.

- (121) Hirschberg, H. S., and Melinat, C. H., Subject Guide to United States Government Publication. 228 pp., (Chicago, 1947).
Several topical headings of interest to criminologists would include: Crime and Criminals, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Juvenile Delinquency, and Law Enforcement.
- (122) Schmeckebier, L. F. and Eastin, R. R., Government Publications and Their Use. rev. ed. 476 pp. (Washington: The Brookings Institute, 1961).
Describes the basic guides to government publications, uses and limits of available indexes, catalogs, and bibliographies, and explains systems of numbering and method of titling.

2) Governmental Publications

- (123) Office of the Superintendent of Documents, Checklist of United States Public Documents, 1789-1909. 3rd ed., 1707 pp. (Washington, 1911).
Definitive source of data from the 15th to the 60th Congress (1817-1909) but also containing considerable material on special committees, departments, bureaus, etc. The Checklist is largely a numerical listing of governmental publications. As no subject index is included, it has value for the researcher only to the extent that basic references are first uncovered in Poore, Ames, The Document Catalog, and Tables and Index.
- (124) Poore, B. P., (comp.), Descriptive Catalog of the Government Publications of the United States, September 5, 1774 - March 4, 1881. 2 Vols., 1392 pp. (Washington, 1885)
This first and only attempt to make a complete survey of all governmental publications lists 63,063 items. Considerable criminological material indexed chronologically under topical headings "crime", "criminal law", "prisons", etc. Most valuable when supplemented by the Checklist (123). Also issued as Senate miscellaneous, Document 67, 48th Congress, 2nd Session.
- (125) Ames, J. G., Comprehensive Index to the Publications of the United States Government, 1881-1893. 2 Vols. 1590 pp., (Washington: House Document #754, 58th Congress, 2nd Session, 1905).
Material is listed alphabetically by subject. Three columns to a page; the first list the author or the publishing federal agency; the second gives a summary of the subject matter; the third column presents some references which may permit the independent location of the item. However, in the majority of cases reference must be made to the Checklist.
- (126) United States Superintendent of Documents, Catalog of the Public Documents of Congress and all the Departments of Government of the United States for the period March 4, 1893 to December 31, 1940. 25 vols., (Washington, 1896-1945).
The Document Catalog, considered the "...permanent and complete catalog of all government publications, both congressional and departmental (for 1893-1940)...", is in dictionary form with entries by subject, author and governmental authority.

Main headings listed under issuing body. Occasionally the Checklist will be necessary to secure full citation, but by and large this catalog is relatively independent. Supersedes Monthly Catalog and Document Index.

- (127) United States Superintendent of Documents, Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications. (1895-, Washington).
From January to March 1895, the Catalog of Publications Issued by Government of the United States; from April 1895 to December, 1905 entitled Catalog of the United States Public Documents; it was called Catalog of United States, Public Documents from January, 1906 to June 1907. Thereafter, to 1930 it was known as Monthly Catalog, United States Public Documents.
- (128) Classified Checklist of United States Government Processed Publications. (1951-, Washington).
Published by the Library of Congress, it includes, primarily, processed publications not distributed by the Superintendent of Documents.

3) Congress - Journals and Records

- (129) Ordway, A. General Index of the Journals of Congress, First to Sixth Congress, Inclusive, being a synoptical subject index of the proceeding on all public business, 1789-1821. 2 Vols. - (131) United States Congress, Congressional Record: Containing the proceedings and debates of the Congress, (1873-, Washington), which is a daily publication with frequent name and subject indexes during a particular Session. Three variously titled series contain debates and proceedings of earlier Congresses, 1789-1873:
- a. Annals of Congress, 1st Congress to the end of the 1st Session of the 18th Congress, 1789-1824.
 - b. Register of Debates, 2nd Session of the 18th Congress, to the end of the 1st Session of the 25th Congress, 1824-1837.

- (135) Office of the Superintendent of Documents, Tables of, and annotated index to the Congressional Series of United States Public Documents. 767 pp., (Washington, 1902).
Known as Tables and Index, it lists the papers of the 15th to the 52nd Congresses, together with an extensive subject index makes this a very valuable source for the era before 1892, however, as with Poore and Ames it must be supplemented with the Checklist.
- (136) Index to Reports of the Committee on the Judiciary, House of Representatives, 54th to 62nd Congress. 93 pp., (Washington, 1913).
Only shows the number of the report and dates, but it can be useful as a method for locating reports.

Of considerable criminological importance as all of the publications of the Department of Justice from 1789 to 1881, as well as those of the office of the Solicitor of the Treasury are contained in these documents along with much other valuable data.

C. STATE GOVERNMENT

- (147) Wilcox, J. K., Manual on the Use of State Publications. 342 pp., (Chicago, 1940).

Subtitle changed in 1935 to An Index to the Legislation of the States of the United States Enacted During the Biennium.
Volumes 1-5 (1925-1934) contained not only topical classification of pertinent legislation and complete citations, but also lengthy digest and summary of statutory changes.

Beginning with Volume 6 (1935-1936) this latter function was discontinued. This single most useful national index of legislation was terminated with the 1947-1948 volume.

The most important analytical indexes to the documents of thirteen states are:

D. JUDICIAL DECISIONS

Some acquaintance with the criminal law in general, and with judicial decisions in particular is necessary for many criminological researches. The following works are especially useful.

- (154) Corpus Juris; Being a complete and systematic statement of the whole body of the law as embodied in and developed by all reported decisions. 72 vols., (New York, 1914-1936).
Not only decisions, but the underlying legal principles are discussed. Subjects are alphabetically arranged and each volume contains a descriptive-word index and concordance, so that information is easily obtained. An annual "Annotation" volume has been issued from 1937 through 1955.
- (155) Corpus Juris Secundum; a complete restatement of the entire American law as developed by all reported cases. 101 vols., (New York, 1936-1958).
A restatement of the Corpus Juris, and similar to it in structure and content.
- (156) Century Edition of the American Digest. 1658-1896. A complete digest of all reported American cases from earliest time to 1896. 50 vols. (St. Paul, Minn.).
A fundamental source that has been kept current by the following decennial editions:
First Decennial Edition of the American Digest, 1897-1906. A complete digest of all reported cases from 1897-1906. 25 vols.
Second Decennial Edition of the American Digest, 1907-1916. 24 vols.
Third Decennial Edition of the American Digest, 1916-1925. 29 vols.
Fourth Decennial Edition of the American Digest, 1925-1936. 34 vols.
Fifth Decennial Edition of the American Digest, 1936-1946. 52 vols.
Sixth Decennial Edition of the American Digest, 1946-1956. 34 vols.
A descriptive-word index is found in each edition.
- (157) The General Digest, First Series, 1936-1946 (26 volumes); Second Series 1946-1956 (29 volumes); and Third Series, 1956-.
The General Digest came into existence with the Fourth Decennial Digest and its purpose has been to act as a monthly supplement to the Decennial Digests, keeping them current from one edition to the next.
- (158) Current Digest. Annual Digest of All Reported Cases (1926-, St. Paul).
All of the digests contain invaluable material in the general fields of criminal law, procedure, and administration as well as to other related criminological and penological interests. Topical arrangement together with extensive cross-references permit quick and simple location of desired decisions.

VI. BIBLIOGRAPHIES

Books and articles on criminological subjects frequently contain footnote references or excellent bibliographies, which might well be consulted. However, there are a number of bibliographical books, pamphlets, or articles which are issued especially to aid in the location of printed material. Furthermore, a bibliography on some criminological topic is occasionally included in a publication which is likely to be passed by because the title of that publication gives no idea of the character of the bibliography included. A selected list of these two kinds of bibliographies is given below. THE ITEMS ARE LISTED CHRONOLOGICALLY UNDER TOPICAL HEADS.

A. BIBLIOGRAPHIES OF BIBLIOGRAPHIES

- (159) Besterman, T., (ed.) A World Bibliography of Bibliographies and of Bibliographical Catalogues, Calendars, Abstracts, Digests, Indexes and the Like, 3rd ed., 3 vols., 4408 columns (2204 pp.) Index, 1293 columns, 431 pp.; (Genève, 1956).
First edition contained 84,403 titles under 12,000 headings; third edition even more comprehensive. Only separately published bibliographies alphabetically arranged by subject with few cross-references to related topics. Primary headings of interest are: capital punishment, children, delinquent children, crime and criminal law, prisons and prisoners, and probation.

VII. SERIAL PUBLICATIONS

There are a number of serial publications in the United States devoted entirely to criminological topics. Some of these are periodical journals which serve as organs of some association or institution. Others are "proceedings," usually annual, of the conventions of organizations dealing with criminological problems. In the following pages a listing is found of such publications. Whenever possible, the first date and the frequency of publication will be given. Strictly legal publications have been excluded. A list of them may be found in items #15, 17, 46, 47, 48, 66. An extensive list of serials is also printed in the first volume of the International Review of Criminal Policy (503).

A little used source of information is the large number of journals published by the inmates or the administration of correctional institutions. Many of them are, of course, useless practically speaking. Some contain very revealing discussions of inmate problems or articles on correctional administration. No complete listing of these publications exists. The most extensive enumeration (together with date of first issue and frequency of publication) contains 67 items as of 1951. See Appendix A in Walter A. Lunden, Social Aspects of Prison Journalism, Mimeo. 25 pp. Walter A. Lunden, Iowa State College, Ames Iowa, Oct. 1951.

VIII. RESEARCH IN PROGRESS

It is important not only to know what research has been completed and published but also what work is in progress, if only to prevent needless duplication of effort. Among the more valuable sources of information are:

- (575) National Council on Crime and Delinquency. National Research and Information Center on Crime and Delinquency, Current Projects in the Prevention, Control, and Treatment of Crime and Delinquency. 1962-. Semi-annual.

The most valuable publication in this area. Volume I gave for 500 projects, title, personnel, participating institutions, dates and summary. Additionally 221 projects were shown by names and titles. There is a Project and Subject index.

Volume II had several articles (Minnesota Program for Standardized Reporting and the Federal Program on Delinquency Prevention). It also lists 500 more projects with full information, plus Continuing Projects from Volume I. Also valuable is Appendix, which is a list of Institutions and Correspondents Abroad, State Contact Personnel...with Program Information Responsibility in Crime and Delinquency.

- (576) U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Children's Bureau, Research Relating to Children. 1948-. Annual.

Lists under "Juvenile Delinquency," summaries of many studies in progress. Each piece of research listed contains title, purpose, subjects, method of investigation, publication references, duration of project, investigators, and cooperating groups.

See also 223, for a compilation of all delinquency projects in this periodical from 1948 to 1960. 477 projects are listed.

- (577) American Sociological Association, Current Sociological Research. (New York University, Washington Square, New York 3, New York).

An annual listing of research engaged in by members of the association, a considerable proportion of which are criminological.

See also International Register of Current Team Research in the Social Sciences. (18).

- (578) UNESCO, Selected Documentation on Criminology. (Reports and papers in social science #14). (Paris, 1961).

Lists major research and teaching facilities in the U.S. on pages 55-60.

- (579) Criminological Research Bulletin, Annual, 1931-1939; 1950-. Irregularly.

The first series of the Bulletin was published annually from 1931 to 1939, originally for the Bureau of Social Hygiene, and later (Numbers 8 and 9) for the Committee on Criminal Statistics, American Prison Association, now The American Correctional Association. A new series began in 1950 and two "numbers" have thus far been published:

- (580) Pollak, O., "Criminological Research Bulletin, New Series, No. 1," Journal of Criminal Law and Criminology, 40:701-728 (March, 1950), and

- (581) Bressler, M., "Criminological Research Bulletin," Journal of Criminal Law and Criminology, 44:185-203 (July, 1953). This last article presented 242 titles classified under the topical headings: Criminal Statistics; Causation; Police Organization and Administration; Science of Detection; Law, Procedure and the Administration of Justice; Treatment: Institutional, Probation and Parole, Other; Miscellaneous.

One may examine profitably the frequent "notes" in The Journal of Criminal Law, Criminology and Police Science, the "notes" in Federal Probation and the International Register of Current Team Research in the Social Sciences.

Finally, the following may be of great value, particularly with increasing interest in foreign material:

- (582) Elsevier's Dictionary of Criminal Science, in eight languages; English/American, French, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Dutch, Swedish and German; compiled and arranged on an English alphabetical base by Johann Anton Adler. 1460 pp., (New York: Van Nostrand, 1960).

IX. TEACHING OF CRIMINOLOGY

For information about the teaching of Criminology in the United States, see:

- (583) The University Teaching of Social Science: Criminology. The Committee of the International Society of Criminology. 164 pp. (Paris: UNESCO, 1957).
Pages 138-153 relate to various groups, organizations and institutions in the United States. (See #578 also).

X. CRIMINAL STATISTICS

Various federal agencies collect and publish statistics reported uniformly by state or local agencies, but none of these publications cover all such agencies in the United States. The best known are the following:

- (585) Uniform Crime Reports, published by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, U. S. Department of Justice, Washington, D. C., based on reported offenses known to the police and persons arrested.
- (586) Juvenile Court Statistics, now based on a permanent and selected sample of juvenile courts in various parts of the nation, are published annually by the -
- (587) Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Washington, D.C., National Prisoner Statistics, based on data supplied by prisons and reformatories for adults, are issued by the Federal Bureau of Prisons, U.S. Department of Justice, Washington, D.C., continuing the more complete and elaborate series of similar reports issued annually from 1926 to 1946 by the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C.

Of federal criminal statistical reports, the most useful are the annual reports on the following:

- (588) Federal Prisons, issued by the Federal Bureau of Prisons, and the
- (589) Annual Report of the Administrative Office of United States Courts, Supreme Court Building, Washington, D.C.

Numerous state and local agencies issue statistical reports. The best are the reports published annually by the Bureau of Criminal Statistics, Department of Justice, Sacramento, California, and the statistical report of the Commissioner of Correction, Boston, Massachusetts. References to these and other reports may be found in item 591.

- (590) McCafferty, J. A., "Prisoner Statistics - National and State," Proceedings of the Social Statistics Section 1960, American Statistical Association, 25-33 pp. (Washington, 1960).
Contains a list of "Persons Responsible for Preparation of Correctional Statistics on Adults in State Institutions. August, 1960." 32-33 pp.

- (591) Sotnick, C., "Annual Reports," NPPA Journal, 3:299-311 (July, 1957). Listing of 114 reports received by National Probation and Parole Association from various delinquency and crime organizations. Reports are classified as City and County, State, Federal, Territorial and Foreign.
